It is understood that the ex-governor has been informed that Mr. Cleveland has become convinced that it will be impossible for either Hill or himself to carry New York, and that a new candidate must be selected, and that, he had determined to write a letter to this effect, and it will shortly appear. ROSLYN, WASHINGTON, May 11 .- The first accident of any note at the coal mines in this place occurred yesterday afternoon just after the afternoon shift had gone on. A driver had just come out of the slope when a tremendous explosion occurred. The shock upset his car, knocked mules and driver down and bruised a man standing 100 feet away. The report was heard all over the town a mile away.

The mouth of the slope was surrounded by an anxious crowd, which grew in size every minute. Hard rain was pouring down, but the crowd heeded not. The number of men in the slope is not actually known but it is known to crowd heeded not. The number of men in the slope is not actually known, but it is known to be from forty-four to fifty. There is scarcely any possibility that one of them escaped death.

The slope in which the explosion occurred runs from No. 2 down to a point where the proposed shaft will be sunk, and is a couple thousand feet in length. Several levels have been worked in the slope, and it is conjectured that the explosion occurred at some point on the fourth or fifth level. For the past two months more or less danger has been connected with the plumpness told in a way to commend to you CAME.

The air courses were in process of construction in the supposed vicinity of the explosion with the intention of joining hands. It is presumed that when the two courses mot the explosion

Great volumes of after damp and smoke rolled from the entrance, making the approach dan-gerous. As soon as it was possible to enter men set to work, but progress was impeded by smoke and damp, which the tunnel continued to emit. At 4:30 o'clock the first bodies were reached, being those of John Bone and John Campbell. FORCE OF THE EXPLOSION. As progress was made the frightful execution of the explosion became more manifest. Timpers were torn out for hundreds of feet and the whole interior was fearfully wrecked. It is thought a fire was started in the lower level and as soon as the fact is developed.

Air fans are working to their full capacity and every effort is being made to recover the bodies of the imprisoned men. All miners in camp who are able to work have voluntered their revision and work have voluntered their revision and men.

in camp who are able to work have volunteered their services and men are working constantly in shift. From the fearful wreckage of the slope interior and the doubt as t to he existence of fire in the lower level, there is no way of determining how soon all the bodies can be recovered. Several of the bodies that have been taken out are badly mutilated. In one instance the head was severed from the body.

This is the second gas explosion that has occurred in the slope within the past two months. The first resulted in the death of a negro driver, to whose carelessness the accident was attributed at the time. Ex-Supt. The first resulted in the death of a negro driver, to whose carelessness the accident was at tributed at the time. Ex-Supt. Ronald, who was in the employ of the company then, said the slope work was dangerous to an unusual degree, and recommended extraordinary precautions. It is stated that Acting Superintendent Harrison has been very careful with the work, and cantioned the men to observe that their lamps were in proper shape when entering places posted as dangerous.

At midnight fourteen bodies had been recovered and all identified. Work of recovery is very slow on account of the large body of gas. It is now almost certain that every man in the mines is killed and that the dead will reach forty-eight.

Manager Kangley says last night's explosion was caused by gas, which was probably lighted by a match or the careless mes of a lamp. The true cause of the accident will never be definitely known, as no one has escaped to tell the story. Thirty-three of rotry-three of ro

Mr. Branch's address was warmly received, references to ex-President Cleveland being loudly applauded. The committee on credentials reported 687 delegates entitled to seats. Mr. Urch of Portsmouth created a sensation by saying that he came to represent those who had grievances against the democrats who had held and aspired to further high honors at the hands of the party. "I charge," continued he, "Grover Cleveland and his past administration with disloyalty and unfaithfulness to the rank and file of the democratic party." The speaker was interrupted by storms of hisses and cries of "Put him"out, "and "Never." The excitement was intense for a short time. When the confusion subsided Chairman Branch ruled Mr. Urch out of order.

A motion was made to proceed to ballot for delegates-at-large, and Mr. Urch moved to table the motion. His motion was postponed and balloting was then proceeded with.

The House then went into committee of the whole [Mr. Lester (Ga.) in the chair] on the sundry civil appropriation bill.

Mr. Smith (Ariz.) criticised the appropriation of $100,000 for survey of public land, contending that the appropriation should be four times that amount. No one desiring to continue the general de-bate, the bill was read by paragraphs for

MR. HOLMAN AND THE MINT. Mr. Holman moved to strike out the appropriation for $620,500 for the purchase of a site and the commencement of a building for a new mint at Philadelphia. He did not think that the work need be entered upon at this time.

The old mint would answer every purpose of the present. The expenditure of this money could be well postponed.

Mr. Otis (Kan.) also favored striking out the one of the few items in the bill which obeyed the law, and the appropriation was in accord-ance with the estimates of the department. Mr. Bingham then proceeded to argue that the present mint at Philadelphia was entirely in-adequate, and he fortified his conclusion by citing the recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury and the auditor of the mint. THE SILVER QUESTION.

Mr. Bland offered an amendment to the sundry civil appropriations bill requiring the cointhe silver bullion now in the treasury.

Mr. Tracey made a point of order against the amendment, and Mr. Cockran moved to further amend by suspending the further purchases of silver bullion.

The chairman of the committee of the whole ruled out of order Mr. Bland's amendment.

Mr. Cockran withdrew his amendment.

Mr. Bland appealed from the decision of the chair.

Mr. Bland subsequently withdrew the appeal, stating that there was another place in the bill where he would offer his amendment.

At 12:33 this morning Otto Ober (or Huber), Morgan Burne) was taken up and, the report having been read, the consideration of the bill was objected to by Mr. Cockrell, on the ground that it would establish a precedent which would open the doors to the pensioning of every sick and helpless child of any man who had served tia (Benning) yard, and after it had passed through the tunnel he was missed.
